Comments by the authors:

Grenz Rays have been successfully used in patients with lentigo maligna at the department of Dermatology at the Karolinska University Hospital since 1990, and we have treated more than 1,000 patients. The method is well tolerated, simple to perform, and has an excellent cosmetic outcome. With this study we would like to highlight the safety and long-term efficacy of Grenz Rays for the treatment of lentigo maligna, especially for cases where surgery is complex to perform.
